Announcements

See you Tonight at 6 pm: We warmly invite you to gather again this evening as we come before the Lord in worship. Our sermon will be drawn from Psalm 133, where we will reflect on the beauty and power of life together in Christ—the source of our unity, the glue that holds us together, and the rich blessings that flow from it. In a divided world, God calls His people to something better: a Spirit-given unity that is both precious and life-giving. Come be renewed, encouraged, and knit together more deeply as the body of Christ.

Church window update: Due to the flooding last Dec., our contractor has taken on several flood repair jobs as a priority. Because of this situation, the windows will be installed sometime this summer. We don't currently have a specific timeline. The windows have all been purchased and are ready for installation when time and weather permit. If you have any questions, please contact Don.
