Building A Biblical Worldview

Who Am I? Gender in Genesis

Genesis 1:27

There are no _____, only two _____ in Genesis.

God's creation of both male and female in His Image

A. Reveals the NATURE of God

1. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit enjoy...

2. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit are equal...

3. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit exercise...

Share What You've Learned with Someone Else

1. Where does the world tell you to look to discover who you are?
How is that different from Genesis 1:26–27?
2. What changes when you recognize, “I am not God, and I am not my own”? How should that shape the way you make decisions about your life?
3. If every person bears the image of God, how should that change the way you see and treat people who are different from you, difficult for you, or overlooked by others?
4. In what ways has sin distorted the person God created you to be?
Where do you most clearly see the tension between who you were created to be and who you actually are?
5. Why is Jesus essential to answering the question, “Who am I?”
How does being united to Christ—the perfect image of God (Colossians 1:15)—begin to restore you to the person God created you to be?

Next Week:

Creation of Male and Female in His Image

- B. Displays the Love of God
- C. Magnifies the Glory of God
